RE: Roscommon Probation Changes

Dear Probationer's,

I am reaching out to let you know that after ten years in this position, my last day as the Probation Officer for the 82nd District Court-Roscommon will be January 3, 2022. I have accepted another position with Roscommon County as the Emergency Management Director.

I want you to know how much I've enjoyed working with each and every one of you. I am going to miss getting to know you all, but I am excited to continue serving this County's needs in a new way. I am confident that I am leaving you in good hands as the current Compliance Officer, Michelle Smith, is stepping into the role of Probation Officer. Michelle has been an employee of the 82nd District Court for nearly nine years, seven of which have been with the Probation Department. With her experience and personality, I have no doubt that she will be a great resource for you during your probation.

Over the next month, I will be assisting Michelle as needed while she becomes comfortable with her new duties. Please be patient while she settles in and treat her with the same kindness and respect you have always shown me.

Please note Effective January 3, 2022 the text line for the 82nd District Court Probation Department will no longer be active. Methods of communication with the Probation Department will ONLY be via phone, email or mail. Please feel free to reach out to either of us if you have any questions. My email will remain varnerv@roscommoncounty.net and Michelle's email is smithm@roscommoncounty.net.

Wishing you all the best,
